BAPTIST REVIVAL IN RICHMOND

Special revival services are in progress in the First Baptist Church, Richmond, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Doolan. Large audiences are present at every service, and much spiritual interest is being aroused. The evangelist is an able preacher, and he is presenting the old fashioned gospel in a convincing and attractive way. His sermon on last Friday night was referred to as one of the most powerful ever heard in Richmond.

EASTERN NORMAL WINS FROM BARBOURVILLE

The Union College team played a game with the Normal team last Friday, but were defeated by a score of 8 to 2.

Ballou, Eastern's new twirler, pitched only six innings, allowing only one hit and striking out 14 men. Lackey allowed the same number in the last three innings and fanned three men. Ballou was a hit wild at first, but soon settled down to a mid-summer pace.

Decker as pitcher and Blair as catcher were the batteries for Union College.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS AND REVENUE OFFICERS BREAK UP STILL

Deputy Sheriff Johnson and Hush, with Chief Revenue Officer Winfrey, of Lexington, paid an unannounced visit to the Dreyfus neighborhood last Friday and raided a still on the Joe Pitman farm.

Pitman, who disclaims any ownership of the still, was arrested and held over for examining trial on Saturday, when he was found guilty on six counts. Pitman's final trial was set for the 26th (Tuesday).

The still was of large capacity, containing seven or eight barrels of beer and mash. A smaller still with some whisky was also located in a smoke house, and two barrels of mash in an adjoining hen house.

The worm had been removed from the still before officers arrived, but the furnace, kettle and other evidences around it led them to believe that a lively business had been in operation.

The beer was emptied out, and the barrels and all utensils used in the illegal manufacture were destroyed by the officers in completing their work.

RICHMOND ROBBERIES

Richmond has been experiencing an outbreak of burglaries in the east end of town of late. The Register of Saturday gives the following account of three robberies which were committed last Thursday:

The office of the mill of Will Parks was entered thru a window. A fine, big desk was torn open and $7 or $8 in cash stolen. Mr. Parks does not know whether anything else was taken or not, but he missed the money as soon as he had opened the desk and noticed the way the robber effected entrance.

At the new store of Rolis Harris, out on Irvine street, a glass was broken in a window. The robber there got $8 or $10 in cash and a lot of groceries.

One of the biggest hauls of the night was made at the store of H. C. Brewer on Big Hill avenue. Mr. Brewer had his windows fortified with heavy screens but a window was broken, and the bolt which held a screen in was uncrewed. It was then an easy matter to effect entrance. The marauder seemed determined to make Mr. Brewer pay him well for his trouble it had been to get inside, so he carried away a lot of shoes, dry goods and other things and cleaned out what change there was in the cash drawer.

At no place, so far as can be learned, was any clue left that might be used in trailing or tracking the thief or thieves.

Thief at Foxtown

Albert Clark, a well-known farmer of the Foxtown section, reports a good set of harness missing from his stable. He went out to hitch up his horses in the morning and found that the harness had disappeared. He has no clue to the thief, it is understood. The harness was practically brand new.

MADISON MEN CALLED FOR JURY SERVICE

Sheriff Whitlock received an order from Circuit Clerk T. J. Stevens of Estill county last week summoning 50 Madison county men to appear in court at Irvine on Monday, April 25, to select a jury for the trial of George Estes, who is implicated in the murder of Marshal Philpot and Deputy Sheriff Reid of Irvine.

A jury of Madison county men will also be called for the trial of Joe Spivy on Tuesday morning. Spivy is also implicated in the same murder charge as Estes. Following is a list of persons summoned to appear in the Estill Circuit Court for jury service as published in the Richmond Register:

G. W. Moody, M. C. Lain, Tom Todd, Arch Hamilton, Geo. W. Young, J. E. Lewis, O. M. Moore, I. B. Chenu, E. H. Scrivner, C. E. Houk, Blevie Allen, Shelby Winkler, Lynn Lewis, C. H. Click, J. B. Terrill, W. W. Adams, Sam Phelps, C. C. Long, Esker Taylor, Simon Turpin, J. R. McKinney, Galvin Agee, Lyman Roberts, S. S. Parks, W. F. Parks, N. A. Durham, A. S. Adams, James A. Moores, Elvada Tudor, S. H. Thorpe, Ben Shearer, Oakley Wells, E. V. Elder, R. H. McKinney, J. W. Arnold, Joe S. Stanifer, C. W. Long, Daniel H. Dykes, Ben Tudor, J. S. Crutcher, John Hsie, Jr., W. E. Taylor, Speed Taylor, W. L. Howe, B. E. Belue, E. C. Carson, R. K. Stone, R. W. Rader, Joe A. Ross, Chas. Dudley.

Kentucky News

John Bailey, confessed slayer of Beverly White, went from the jail at Mt. Vernon to the residence of the jailer early last Saturday and reported the other five prisoners in the jail had escaped. Bailey asked the officer to go back to the jail and stay with him. Tonight but one of the fugitives had been captured.

Figures of the 1920 census showing the acreage and value of vegetables recently made public by the Census Bureau.

With 50,000 acres in Irish potatoes, Kentucky produced 3,121,377 bushels, valued at $7,671,876. There were 14,892 acres in sweet potatoes, and they produced 1,222,651 bushels, valued at $2,750,978.

The State of Kentucky has 7,030 wards in its seven institutions, according to the reports for March filed with the State Board of Charities and Correction.

There are 1,482 convicts, 1,062 at Frankfort and 420 at Eddyville; 4,708 insane, 1,834 at Lakeview, 1,474 at Hopkinsville and 1,401 at Lexington, and 422 children at the houses of reform and 417 at the Institute for Feeble Minded.

Miami University defeated the University of Kentucky in the first intercollegiate field and track meet of the season at Oxford, O., on April 23. The score was 65 to 52. Some good distances were made in the field events, tho there was no especially good time made in the running, owing to a heavy track.

Clare was the star for Kentucky, scoring four firsts. Thornton came next with a first and a second. Kentucky showed superiority in all the running events. Miami excelled in the weights and the jumping.

Despite his fifty years of age and being much smaller in physique than his assailant, Rev. B. F. Atkinson, of the Jefferson Street Methodist church, severely beat, choked and frightened away a Negro who attempted to hold him up at the point of a revolver last Sunday night.

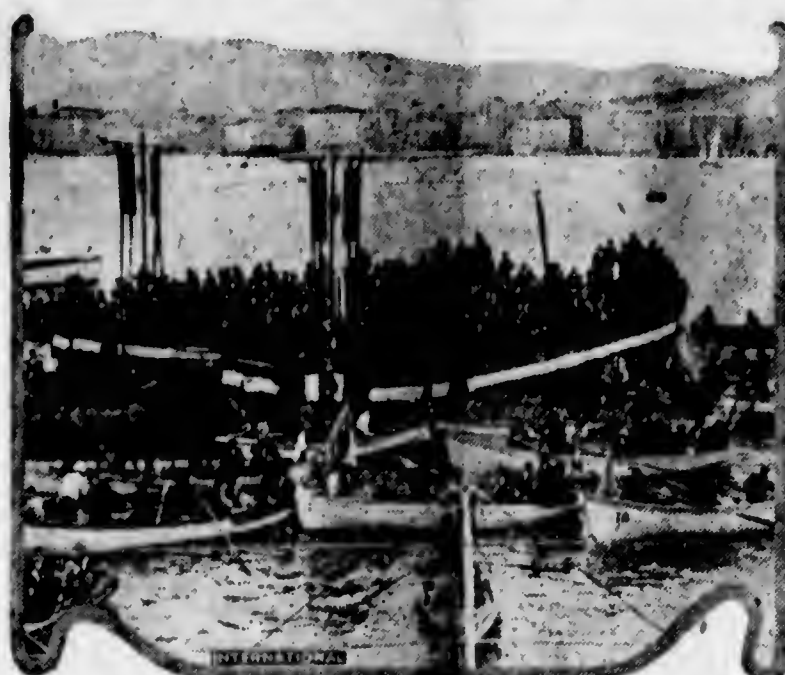

Rev. Atkinson said that he and the Negro, who weighed at least thirty pounds more than he did and was a foot taller, grappled when he was told to hold up his hands. "I thought I had choked him into unconsciousness," Rev. Atkinson said, "but when I turned loose of his throat he jumped up from the ground and fled into an alley." The preacher received several injuries on the head from the Negro's revolver.

Dr. Atkinson came to Louisville about a year ago from Owensboro where he held a pastorate four years.

The University of Louisville baseball team took the Transylvania nine into camp on Saturday in a listless contest at Eclipse Park, Louisville, by the score 12 to 7. Altho the Crimsons hopped off to a 3-2 lead in the first round and changed their advantage to 5-4 in the next inning, the Louisville boys headed them in the third stanza.

Hall, captain of the Louisville team, hit safely three times and sacrificed twice out of five times at bat. He

Italy Formally Annexes Trieste

Hundreds of thousands of Italians from all parts of the "redeemed" territories crowded Trieste to attend the ceremonies in connection with the formal annexation of the former Austrian port to Italy. The photograph shows barges loaded with members of Italian patriotic societies, in the harbor of Trieste, at the ceremonies aboard the Italian dreadnaught Victor Emmanuel.

CLEVELAND CASHIER ROBBED

Two armed bandits snatched a handbag containing $1,500 from Miss Margaret Tallett, restaurant cashier, as she was entering a bank in a crowded section of Euclid avenue on Monday morning to deposit the money, and escaped. One of the robbers knocked Miss Tallett down and then grabbed the bag.

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATIONS

Francis M. Goodwin, of Spokane, Wash., was nominated on Monday, the 25th, to be Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

Robert H. Lovett, of Illinois, was nominated to be Assistant Attorney General and Theodore G. Rialley, of Illinois, to be solicitor for the Department of Labor.

Winifred E. Bodman, a special agent for the Columbian National Life Insurance Company, and an unidentified negro girl about 20 years old were found dead in Bodman's home, Chicago, Warwick Avenue. The police say they were the victims either of moonshine whisky or ptomaine poisoning. Bodman was 45 years old, a bachelor and the owner of his home.

The only clue to the identity of the negro girl was a handkerchief bearing the initial "T." She was neatly dressed, wore silk stockings, silk underwear and several rings.

Woodrow Wilson attended the theatre last week for the first time since he retired from the Presidency.

Arriving at the theatre after the performance had started, the former President with Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and John Randolph scored one run in the third, when the Cards jumped into the lead, and walloped the sphere for a two-bagger in the sixth. Thurman struck out eleven Transylvania pastimers. He made one run and pounded the ball to the right field fence for a two-base hit. Craig sent the horsehide thru center for a home run.

OIL NEWS

The Torrent Oil Production Company operating in Estill county, has recently completed its initial well on the B. F. Creech farm in the Pilot district, which is considered by conservative oil men to be one of the best wells drilled in that field for a long time. This well is 861 feet deep and the oil was found in what is known as the second pay. After the pay sand had been penetrated about 6 feet, the well began flowing and it is estimated at between 50 and 75 barrels. Raleigh Clark, of Lexington, manager for the company, reports that it has considerable average in the vicinity of the new strike, and that further development work will follow. E. L. Shea, also of Lexington, is the field manager.

The fields of Upper Kentucky, along with those of the Big Sandy river, continue to show a fair amount of routine activity. Lee county shows some strikes each week, and occasional completion making 25 barrels. The Superior Oil Corporation has a new strike on the Townsend lease of 25 barrels' capacity. Lee and adjoining counties of Wolfe, Estill and Powell territory are far from being drilled out.—Lexington Leader.

Bolling, his brother-in-law, walked unnoticed into the building, was seated in the rear row of the orchestra and witnessed the performance without more than a half dozen persons recognizing him.

Many insane soldiers are wandering the streets of New York, Colonel Cornelius W. Wickersham, chairman of the American Legion investigation committee, declared in an informal report presented last week to Commander F. W. Galbraith, Jr., commander of the Legion.

Colonel Wickersham declared many others, as deficient mentally are being hidden away in their homes. The men, the report declared, are not only a menace to themselves but to the public, and remedial legislation is urged.

Colonel Wickersham declared the insane are increasing in the State of New York at the rate of 250 to 300 a month. The tubercular situation is equally as bad, the report said.

In line with a policy of economy promised by Congress, it has been announced at the Quartermaster General's office that nearly $3,000,000 in salaries will have been saved to the taxpayers by June 30, or at the rate of about $6,000,000 a year.

For the first three months of this year, 5,556 civilian employees have been separated from the Quartermasters Corps and the approximate amount of savings in salaries up to June 30 will be $2,778,000. In addition, 4,146 employees have been demoted in the different corps areas and depots, with a saving of $184,823.90.

Since February, 1919, more than 80,000 civilians have been discharged by the Quartermaster Corps, and this branch of the army is on a new peace-time footing. The 498 different kinds of civilian positions in the corps are to be consolidated into 125, and the same job will not longer have two or more different names. None of these wholesale reductions will in any way impair the efficiency of the supply service of the army.

INSANITY FIGURES DROP

Here is another proof that prohibition is working, all evidence to the contrary notwithstanding.

Dr. Menas S. Gregory and Dr. Clarence L. Dana, neurologists of Bellevue hospital, New York, report that alcoholic insanity cases in that state have dropped from 8.6 per cent of total insanity cases in 1917 to 1.9 per cent in 1920.

The decline after the eighteenth amendment went into effect was sharper than for any other period of like duration.

The proportion of cases of alcoholic insanity to the population of the state shows, naturally, a similar drop. In 1917 8.6 per cent of every 100,000 persons were admitted to insane asylums as a result of alcoholism. In 1920 the percentage had fallen to 1.2.

These figures more than answer the contention of anti-prohibitionists that the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment is resulting in an increase of insanity thru the consumption of so-called "hooch" and adulterated liquors illicitly dispensed. They prove, if they prove anything, that even in its as yet imperfect operation prohibition is making for betterment.

ALLIES INVITED TO SEND REPRESENTATIVES

TO MEETING OF SUPREME COUNCIL TO CONSIDER THE GERMAN PROPOSALS.

Teutons Near Realization of Allied Standpoint, in Letters to America, British Are Told—First Part of Message Is Similar to Protest.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Berlin.—The new German counter proposals regarding reparations were said by the German People's party leader to represent a liberal compromise between the demands of the Entente, made in Paris, and Germany's offer, made in London. He said they would name far-reaching guarantees covering economic obligations to be assumed by Germany in connection with her present proposal.

Lympe.—The Allied Governments will be invited to send representatives to a meeting of the Supreme Council to consider the German proposals, if they are received in the meantime and to determine upon immediate collective action should the German proposals be unacceptable.

This was decided upon by Premier David Lloyd George and Aristide Briand at their conversations here. If the British coal strike is ended the Supreme Council will meet in Paris; if the strike is not ended, it will meet in London. The United States Government will not be invited to attend as it is not a signatory to the Treaty of Versailles, under which the Supreme Council meets, but both Premiers, it is said, would welcome the presence of American delegates.

They consider it to be unfortunate, it is added, that the German Government should not have sent a copy of its latest proposals to them, so that they might have begun an examination at this meeting. However, as Mr. Lloyd George said, they would be glad to receive them through American hands.

The conversations between Premiers, of which there have been five, of from two to three hours each, have turned upon the French project of occupation and economic control of more of the Rhenish Westphalian region. M. Briand and M. Berthelot expounded the plans, and Mr. Lloyd George questioned the French representatives. Both Premiers are agreed that the Ruhr coal field must be occupied if Germany continued to default in payment of indemnities.

It is learned that no advance on the Ruhr will be made until after a definite decision and approval by the Supreme Council. Mr. Lloyd George and M. Briand regard Germany's note concerning her willingness to undertake reconstruction of the devastated regions as a distinct concession, satisfactory, as far as it goes, but they feel compelled to reserve judgment regarding the offer of German labor, as France has her own labor troubles and must examine this project in the light of France's internal situation.

Dismissal of Dry Agents.

Washington.—The proposed transfer of national prohibition enforcement from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice probably will be made soon after David H. Blair, of North Carolina, is confirmed as Commissioner of Internal Revenue, according to John F. Kramer, Federal Prohibition Commissioner. This will mean the elimination of the prohibition unit of the Department of Internal Revenue and the dismissal of a large number of agents and other employees now enforcing prohibition, Mr. Kramer believes.

Loading Charges Boosted.

Washington.—Increased charges for loading and unloading ordinary live stock at public stock yards at Chicago and other Western points and inclusion of such charges in transportation of live stock were ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The charges were fixed at a uniform scale of $1 a car. The previous scale had ranged from 50 cents to $1 at various stock yards.

Insurance to Cost Chicago More.

Chicago.—Insurance companies plan to increase their rates on burglary policies in Chicago, it was revealed, because of the inroads made by robbers on their earnings.

Search For Drug Ring.

Kansas City.—A search for the "master mind" of a nation-wide drug smuggling ring—a criminal genius whose cunning has led to the use of carrier pigeons to transport narcotics—is in progress in Kansas City. Federal agents are convinced that this city is the narcotic drug headquarters of the gang. Federal Narcotic Agent Joseph M. Bransky, in charge of the Northwestern Division, with headquarters in Minneapolis, is in charge of the investigation. Clues were obtained in Minneapolis of the ring here.

World News

Altho the newspapers have been outspoken on the strained relations of the U. S. with Japan, there is evidence that the dispute over the little island of Yap will not cause a break in the good feeling which has long existed between the two countries. The report has been started from some source that Japan will yield to the U. S. request if the same policy will be generally applied to other countries. Such a settlement would be highly beneficial to Japan, as she would gain more than she would lose. It is discrimination that hurts the Japanese most keenly of anything. It is the same in the case of our treatment of her people as immigrants. She will submit to any treatment that is applied to all alike. There is much respect in such an attitude.

The Treaty with the South American state of Colombia, by which she is to receive from the U. S. the sum of $25,000,000, has been ratified by the Senate with a large vote. Such an act by a democratic administration could have been expected, but it was hardly believed that the Republican party would in this way discredit the administration of Roosevelt, as it can hardly be interpreted to mean anything else than an admission that we did Colombia a wrong. The changed attitude of some of the Republican Senators, however, is coming to be understood. Large oil resources have been discovered and oil is now king. The friendship for Colombia is no longer just a matter of sentiment or of justice.

It was supposed that the return of Viviani to France from what seemed on the surface an unsuccessful mission might mar the good feeling between the republics. He has proved equal to the emergency, however, and in his report to France and her people he does much to enlighten them on the American point of view, which they had failed to comprehend at all. He tells them that the U. S. intends, in her own way, to support most of the provisions laid down in the Treaty of Versailles and that she will take a larger part in world affairs than the change in her political affairs would lead one to expect. He is even sanguine enough to see some possibility of hitching President Harding's association of nations to the existing and established League of Nations.

Germany's submission of her reparations problem to the U. S. to mediate is one of the best diplomatic moves that Germany has made in recent years. It heads off France's immediate occupation of the Ruhr coal region, and it separates England, to some extent, from France. It gives the U. S., moreover, a wonderful opportunity to play a great and fitting part that may do much to restore to us our rightful leadership. There is some reason to believe that Germany is anxious for a settlement, and will go farther toward making it in this way than any other. She is willing to give labor, to give capital in her industrial enterprises, but she cannot, apparently, disregard the peoples' objection to so large a nominal reparation in actual money.

England's great industrial miners' strike has not interfered with plans for the largest industrial exposition ever planned by any people. If the plan can be carried out, it includes fairs in London, Glasgow, and Birmingham. At these fairs exhibits from all nations will be shown, and England hopes to be able to recover her markets and to increase them beyond anything enjoyed in the past. A period of industrial prosperity would do much to remove the difficulties under which England is suffering at present. Other countries are bound, for self defense, to settle up existing differences and become busy in production and trade. This can become a mighty force toward peace as well as war.

The women of Belgium have just had their first experience in voting, and they have shown an interest that is commendable and promises well for the future. Their votes outnumbered those of the male population by 700,000. Had they so desired they could have put a woman in every office, or have made revolutionary changes to suit their will. That they did no such thing is a good sign that the ballot is in good (Continued on Page 8)

The Cat Didn't Leave

Some cats come back, so the story goes, and some don't ever leave. Many have been the interpretations of my business activities during the past year. Some had me sick, but I never felt better; some had me moving to a bigger town, that won't ever do, for Russell Conwell said not to do it; some had me broke and financially embarrassed and mercy me, that would never do, it might make a few of my friends rejoice, so I guess I had better stick around awhile and see what can be going on, and maybe I can start something if no one else feels like it. Feeling fine, not going to leave and not broke or financially embarrassed, and last, but never least in importance, I am selling

Dry Goods, Ladies', Gents' and Children's

Furnishings. What do you think of that? If it wears we sell it.

You see The S. E. Welch Department Store wanted to quit business, and like some regular humans, they did. Some bought this department and some that department and here I am with the Dry Goods, Clothing, etc. Now wait a minute, don't go too fast---wait about a year before you say that. I am talking only of the present.

Dry Goods You will again be able to make your selections from the choice of New York and Chicago's best. Yes, Berea can have the best, you can bet on that, and when our buyers who are now in the markets get back we know just what your verdict will be---the PRETTY, the NEW, the SNAPPY, the VERY LATEST, and QUALITY and PRACTICAL value all over 'em. Seeing is believing. Come on. We have often been tried, never denied and willing to be tried again.

Men's Wear Hart, Schaffner & Marx suits, men, will answer the desires of all. Absolutely every man and boy can get all wool clothes, and at the good old prices of the olden days. Walk Over Shoes, Stetson Hats, Cooper Underwear.

Wait a minute, I forgot the most important part of my story. The new firm sells only for CASH, CASH, CASH. No more charges, bad accounts and duns. It's cheaper prices, and everybody pays the good old cash when they get the goods. Will tell you more about it next time.

Ladies' Wear Now you said the big word. Palmer for suits but dresses now. You ought to see our new line of dresses. Everything from a house dress of gingham to the loveliest things in town and the best part is we get a new selection every week---only one of a kind. We are now prepared and we have bought an absolutely complete line of everything in Ladies' Wear. We invite your inspection and we know just what you want. May we have the pleasure of showing you what we have. Remember you are going to promise yourself now to see our wonderful line before you buy this fall. Have you tried our Gordon Hose, LaCamille Corsets, Queen Skirts.

Children You just put all the good things together that we have said about the older folks above and multiply it by 2 and you have what we can show you in Children's Ready-to-Wear. Bring mamma along, we will do the rest. Billikin Shoes is a mighty good excuse to get to come along with her, or the Tom Sawyer Wash Suits.

of Sources.

Richmond Circuit Court opens Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Nave, and son, John, Jr., and Sam Logan, of Danville, were here last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Logan.

Professor L. V. Dodge and Mrs. Dodge arrived on the noon train, Tuesday, after a visit of several weeks in Washington, D. C.

Miss Olive Ward, of the Academy Department, had a delightful visit from her father and Miss Blanche Ward, the latter part of last week. Mr. and Miss Ward live at Paintsville and had been attending the K. E. A. at Louisville before coming to Berea.

Miss Una Gabbard, who has been with the Richmond-Welch Co., is now assisting in the dry goods store office here.

Miss Mary Lewis, a recent College graduate of Berea, is spending several days here with friends.

Mrs. Gran Hays was called to Lexington at the first of the week to see her daughter, Clemmie, who was quite ill.

William Jarvis is quite ill with tonsillitis.

Miss Iva Harrison gave a birthday party to her many friends Thursday night, April 21, from 8 to 10 p. m. Delicious refreshments were served throughout the evening. The cake, beautifully decorated with lighted candles, at the close, was the center of attraction.

The children of Rev. Charles Holder are sick with chicken-pox.

Prof. C. N. Shutt delivered two interesting and edifying discourses at the M. E. Church, Sunday, April 24. Millard Smith, who is attending school at Paint Lick, was visiting home folks the latter part of the week.

Miss Fannie Dowden was in town Monday.

The business in West End is increasing a new grocery, "The Economy," having just started up. R. R. Harris is proprietor.

Robert Cook, who has been ill for several weeks with pneumonia, is improving.

Mrs. Lizzie Scruggs, mother of A. F. Scruggs, who has been in their home for several weeks, returned to Flemingsburg, Monday, April 25.

Members of the C. E. W. S. S. Class in the M. E. church were given a party in the home of Bert Harrison, April 22. Ice cream and cake were served.

The Echo Club met Monday evening, April 25, with Miss Ruth Robbins on Chestnut street.

Mrs. L. J. Godbey is attending a meeting of the Executive Board of Home Missions, of which she is a member, in Lexington, this week.

Mrs. I. J. Wood and little son, Jack, Jr., are visiting in Cincinnati this week.

Altho the road is rough from Berea to Paint Lick, several cars of interested folks are attending the revival being held at that place by the pastor, Rev. Young, and assisted by Rev. C. E. Vogel.

E. G. Walker has gone to Cincinnati on a business trip in connection with his Irvine store, The Fashion.

Miss Anna Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Roberts, Jackson street, left on the early train on Wednesday for Cincinnati, where she will visit Ruth Porter for a short time. She expects later to visit her aunt and spend the summer on a farm in northern Michigan.

William E. Rix, of The Citizen Staff, received a telegram on Tuesday morning conveying the sad intelligence that his mother in Orillia, Ontario, aged 84 years, had passed away on Monday evening. She had been unusually well for one of her years, but an acute attack of diabetes caused her death, after a week's illness. Mrs. Rix belonged to the sturdy class of pioneers who emigrated to Canada from England in the early forties and who by industry, piety and perseverance made the wooded wilderness blossom as the rose. The ranks of the early settlers, both in this country and Canada, are being rapidly thinned by death, but their "works do follow them," and we of the present generation who have entered into the fruits of their labors have much to thank God for.

Estmer Hudson and wife arrived in Berea Wednesday from Nashville, where they had been to attend a Cotton Growers' Convention. Mr. Hudson is a former Berea boy, but went to Arizona several years ago to do Government experiment work under Prof. S. C. Mason, gaining quite a reputation as a cotton grower, and later had charge of a large cotton plantation for the Goodyear Rubber Company, near Phoenix, but the last few years has been operating a large irrigated plantation of his own.

BOY SCOUT TEACHING SAVES A LIFE

Monday afternoon four Berea boys, Ed Robinson, Lemuel Godbey, Roger Hicks, and Emil Anderson were swimming in the swimming hole back of Professor Ditzney's. After a little while the boys missed Emil. They left the water and looked around and called for him, but he did not answer.

They went back to the water and, after a few minutes' search, they found him lying on the bottom. He was unconscious and apparently drowned. They carried him out, and by means of artificial respiration as practised by the Boy Scouts, succeeded in reviving him.

Mr. Miller's work and teachings as Scout Master cannot be commended too highly. Only on an occasion like this, when his work has resulted directly in the saving of a life, otherwise lost, do we begin to appreciate it.

Ed Robinson and Emil Anderson both received training in first aid work while members of the Boy Scouts Organization, with Mr. Miller Scout Master.

Godbey and Robinson are also to be highly commended for their presence of mind and persistence in using the means to revive their helpless companion.

MRS. HILL KILLED BY TRAIN

Monday's Courier-Journal given the following particulars concerning the sad death of Mrs. Malinda Hill, a sister of Mr. B. H. Gabbard, of Berea. Mrs. Malinda Hill, 45 years old, was killed almost instantly at 1:50 o'clock Sunday afternoon when she was struck by a freight train near Underwood, Ind., twenty-seven miles from Louisville.

She was on the way to the home of a friend in Underwood. At Cochran's crossing her attention was attracted by an automobile, and she started across the track, it was said. The train was only a few yards away when she saw it.

The train was in charge of John T. Lott, conductor, Louisville, and Marion S. Bennett, engineer, Jeffersonville. Bennett said that he sounded the whistle for the crossing.

Mrs. Hill resided with her father-in-law, W. H. Hill, Underwood. Her husband, W. G. Hill, is superintendent of a dairy farm in West Virginia.

Besides her husband she leaves two sons and two daughters, Clyde, Carl, and Nora at home, and Mrs. Harold VanWinkle, of Berea; her mother, Mrs. Ellen Gabbard, one sister, Mrs. Alice Moore, and two brothers, B. H. and William Gabbard, of Berea, who have the heartfelt sympathy of a wide circle of friends in this severe trial and sad hour of bereavement.

Mrs. Hill was formerly a resident of Berea and has many acquaintances here who will be saddened to learn of her death under such tragic circumstances.

The funeral was held at the Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, conducted by the Rev. John Cunningham. Burial followed in the Berea cemetery.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Berea, Ky., April 26, 1921.—The town and community are to be congratulated on the new electric lights just installed in the Berea Graded School building. The money for these lights was not raised by taxation, but was supplied thru the energy and benevolence of a local organization.

On any dark night, when there is a public meeting at the school building, the effect of these lights is wonderful in the extreme. Again we wish to thank those who are doing so much for the community thru the school.

"GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL DAY"

Sunday, May 1, is "Go-to-Sunday-school Day" in Kentucky, and everyone is urged to be in line. The five schools in Berea will meet as usual at 9:45, then at 10:45 will march in line to the College Chapel to music of the Berea Band. Each school has been assigned to a section of seats. Rev. George A. Joplin, of Louisville, Secretary of the State Sunday-school Association, will deliver the address.

At 2:30 Rev. Joplin will speak again in the Chapel and reports will be given from Sunday-schools in the Berea District, and a leather-bound Bible presented to the family that showed the largest number in Sunday-school. Rev. Joplin will speak in the Baptist church at Kingston, Sunday evening, at 7:30.

Full 'o the Milk of Human Kindness

When Lady Macbeth, who still lives thru the genius of Shakespeare, made the above comment about her husband many centuries ago she uttered an aphorism that has never been disputed.

Men and women from all walks in life today show unmistakable signs of being the sons and daughters of old mother Eve. It is a common thing among the colored folk of the South for one to have a disagreement with another and call him "a onery black nigger" and not fit fo' decent people to 'sociate wid.' It is a still more common thing for the advocates of certain religious or political beliefs to damn everybody who is on the opposite side and to attribute to those with whom they are in agreement the right of divine authority. In political campaigns everybody on the opposite side is wrong and everything that is advocated by the opposite party will lead to chaos.

This is just what has happened in connection with the recent presidential election. Wilson's partisanship, which was quite pronounced, was condemned in most vehement terms. Millions of dollars were spent in literature and speeches upon this theme. Capable men for government posts were promised by both parties and political connections were to play the most inconspicuous part in their election.

The great reliance of seven million American voters who represent President Harding's plurality over Governor Cox was the promise that Mr. Harding would surround himself with efficient and able statesmen.

One of his first announcements was the selection of Justice Hughes as Secretary of State. This brought a nation-wide applause. Another early appointment was Herbert Hoover to the position of Secretary of Commerce which is at the bottom of the list. This appointment was received with great enthusiasm. Then came the slump—the disappointment of thousands of good honest Republicans who had not forgotten the charges against President Wilson. Many private citizens walking about the streets have been heard to say, "We do not claim that Mr. Harding is the ablest man in America, but watch him surround himself with great statesmen!"

The appointments came in rapid succession. The bell-wether of the flock was Will H. Hays for Postmaster General because he had in the National Headquarters the names of the key men, in politics, in every district in the United States. He knows at a flash who all the "deserving Republicans" are and can tell which one, by virtue of efficient services, is entitled to such and such a place. Other surprises were sprung, but the next one that took the breath out of the lawyers and judges in Central Ohio was the appointment of Harry M. Dougherty to the position of Attorney General of the United States.

Friends and acquaintances of his in Columbus say that he has not had a case in the courts for ten years, and that he has never professed to be a lawyer with first-rate standing. He is a professional politician and has been a local lobbyist for twenty-five years.

The greatest slam that the American Government could give the Allies was the appointment of Colonel George Harvey to the Court of St. James, England. Not because Mr. Harvey is a bitter enemy of Woodrow Wilson, nor because his is against any sort of a League of Nations should his appointment have been withheld, but because he is not a true, honest American with the scrupulous ideals for which an international American statesman should stand. Mr. Harvey is a fire-eater without conviction. He delights more in the slandering of men than in fighting for principles. He was one of Woodrow Wilson's original supporters and because of his abuses of Roosevelt and Taft Mr. Wilson told him he had done his canvas more harm than good. From that day forward he never ceased in his efforts to slander Mr. Wilson's name. Not only is Mr. Harding's good name in danger at the hands of the Ambassador to England, but the welfare of the United States is at stake.

Besides appointing four Marion citizens to lucrative places in the National Government—one, without any experience, to the prominent post of Controller of the Currency. The most questionable appointment is that of the President's brother-in-law, the Rev. Heber Votaw, a Seven-Day Adventist minister, to the position of Superintendent of all the Federal Prisons in the United States.

The man who was displaced has spent his life in prison work and knows the business as few men in America know it. The Rev. Mr. Votaw knows nothing about the work and will have to begin the study of the business well past middle life or depend upon subordinates to do it all.

These bits of evidence have been introduced merely to show that often there is danger of the "pot calling the kettle black" and that "a man is a man for a' that" and that from the highest to the lowest among us there is constantly oozing out "the milk of human kindness."

Citizens' Military Training Camps

The Citizens' Military Training Camps, which are proposed for this summer, offer to all our young men a real opportunity of doing a bit of patriotic service. These camps are to be schools for citizenship and national defense and the spirit, aims, and methods will be what many of us will approve.

The subject of military camps is a dangerous one at this time, as so many thousands of our young men are not far enough removed from their own camp experiences to tolerate the idea. But the Citizens' Camp is a different proposition and should be considered with different ends in view.

Under a provision of the army reorganization act and subject to an appropriation in the pending Army Bill the War Department will hold a series of military training camps for civilians in 1921.

The camp for Kentucky citizens will be either Camp Knox, Ky., or Camp Sherman, Ohio, and will be opened for four weeks in July or August. The object of these camps is to develop closer national and social unity, to teach the privileges and duties of American citizenship, to stimulate interest in military training as a benefit to the individual and as a vital asset in the problems of national defense. All men between the ages of 16 and 35 of good intelligence, character and physical condition are eligible for admission.

All expenses, subsistence and equipment are provided by the government. Possibly the most interesting part of the work will be the corrective training which inexperienced men will receive. Many physical defects will be corrected by the out-of-door games and sports and by the attention of medical and surgical experts.

There will be much opposition to this kind of a program, for it savors of Prussianism, but if we keep our minds pure from militaristic motives and aspire only to physical fitness and national defense in case of emergency, the program is a worthy one.

Persons interested in the month's training this summer will receive enrolment blanks by addressing The Military Training Camps Association, 210 Mallers Building, Chicago, Ill.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF THRILLING EXPERIENCE

In an address in Louisville after a tour of the State in the interest of the China Famine Fund, the Rev. William Stout describing conditions in China, told of a terrific battle between famished dogs and starving men. Mr. Stout, a missionary near the provinces now ravished by starvation, typhus and the bubonic plague, is here on a year's furlough which expires in July. He told his audience of encountering the battle while on a relief expedition in the interior of China, the fight starting over a morsel of food.

"When a dog was killed he was quickly eaten or when a man was wounded he was terribly mangled by the fangs of the beasts which once were pets of the persons they now attacked," he said.

"At every stop, crowds of such ragged and maimed Chinese, old and young, as eyes never before beheld, would swarm around us begging for food and money."

"Several persons in our party threw some coins to the people and the scramble was heart rendering. Then some one tried to hand a morsel of bread to one poor old woman. The crowd that had followed us was a multitude and it seemed that the whole mass fell upon the poor soul and tried to wrest the morsel from her."

"Then, as the out of the desert, a great flock of dogs appeared in our midst, snarling, snapping and tearing at the throats of the people. It was a hand to hand battle and as a dog would fall dead eager hands would tear away its flesh and devour it. When some dog managed to tear a human being, a dozen of the ferocious beasts would jump on him and but for the crowd would have killed him before our eyes."

"We were on the way to establish relief stations and only after an all-day trip did we manage to penetrate twenty miles into the interior and set up our stores for distribution to the most needy."

The Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins is Chairman of the fund in Kentucky and Joseph Burge is Treasurer. Your checks should be sent to Joseph Burge or deposited in any bank in Kentucky if there is no local committee organized to receive your contributions.

Better than "Blind Husbands"

Do you know what the devil's passkey is? Do you know who uses it? Would you know it if you saw it? What is its price? Can it be bought? There is a way, says Paris, to every woman's heart—and Von Stroheim, who knows his Paris as you know the rooms you live in—shows you what it is, in the most sensational photodrama of many years. A picture which every well-known critic has pronounced one of the wonders of the screen—for suspense, for detail of plot and setting, for the very human people who meet here the one great crisis of their lives. See "THE DEVIL'S PASSKEY" without fail. It was created by a man who knows—and who knows you know.

DAVIS BRANCH JUNIOR AGRICULTURAL CLUB

Davis Branch Junior Agricultural Club met at R. T. Abney's residence, Saturday morning, April 23, and received instructions from the Local Lender, Mrs. R. T. Abney, and the County Agent.

There are 20 members in this club and each one is doing something. Not one a slacker. Sixteen were present out of the 20. Mrs. Abney is a fine Club Leader. She is certainly looking after her flock.

The County Agent took up the work with each member by asking questions as to pigs, corn, poultry, record books and instructions. By doing this he found out just where each member was and what they were trying to do.

This club is planning for a picnic some time in the near future.

SCAFFOLD CANE AGRICULTURE CLUB

Saturday night, April 23, the Junior Agricultural Club put on one of the best programs ever given on any occasion at the schoolhouse.

For the benefit of other clubs that would like to put on a program, the Scaffold Cane program is printed below:

1. Song—"My Country 'Tis of Thee."

2. The Importance of the Club, Willard Baker.

3. Poultry—Goldie Martin.

4. Song—By three girls.

5. Recitation—Mable Coyle.

6. Home Duties—Mildred Parsons.

7. Potatoes—Charles Barrett.

8. Song—By Club.

Each member wore a crown, which distinguished him from other people. Two long tables with benches were placed lengthwise of room which were filled with people. At the close of the program ice cream was served to all present, the first one cost nothing, the second, third, etc., cost 6 cents each. Many games were introduced and played on the tables by all. Seventy-one in attendance. At the close of the games cream again was served.

The admission, 10 cents, plus the cream proceeds amounted to a nice little sum which will go toward paying for lights.

One hundred percent of club members were present and took active part. This club is moving along fine and not only helping themselves but the entire community.

The Importance of the Club
A club is very important in many ways.

It will help the boys and girls to be better farmers and farmers' wives in the future. It encourages the boys and girls who live on a farm in that it gives them more amusement and more vitality. It shows them more what they can do and how much better it is to live on a farm than it is to live in a city.

A boy who goes to the city to make money often fails and is financially ruined, while a good farmer hardly ever fails unless he speculates too much.

Statistics show that only about 5% of the merchants are successful. Take a casual survey of the average town and it will readily be apparent that very few lawyers are successful, while a large number of so-called lawyers are barely getting by, sometimes by methods that are not creditable. Of course a farmer is not made a millionaire overnight, but when you get down to actual facts, it will not require any unusual proficiency in mathematics to find that there are just about as many successful farmers as there are successful men in other kinds of business or professions. Of course a good many farmers as well as business men in other lines have been spoiled by a few years of abnormal profits. Besides, most people believe that the other fellow has the best job.

For every farmer that goes to town to live and is satisfied, there are two who wish they had not taken this step. The main farmers' problem is cooperation and organization, not selling out and going to the city.

The club can gain lots by this, for if the club has organization and cooperation now, it will be easier for them in future life because they can still have the same cooperation and organization. Also the club has great opportunities in store. It is a great thing for boys and girls to go on picnics and to socials and camps. I was talking to Mr. Buckler, our State Leader of Clubs, the other day. He said that if the plan they were working on carried, there would be 4 or 5 instead of one from each county that would get to go to the State fair, free of charge. So that means an opportunity to every boy and girl in the club.

Pres. Scaffold Cane Junior Club

SCHOOLS ENLISTED TO AID BETTER LIVESTOCK MOVEMENT

Indications that the public schools of the State in the rural sections will enter the campaign for better bred livestock were evidenced recently when favorable response to letters to several county superintendents asking assistance, was received by The Louisville Livestock Exchange and The Kentucky Pure Bred Livestock Association.

Appreciation of the seriousness of the livestock situation was expressed by the superintendents as well as concern as to the success of the campaign. An effort will be made by the Exchange and the Association to reach the children direct thru the schools and the parents in turn thru the children. Literature explaining the purpose of the campaign, the promotion of calf, sheep and pig clubs, the writing of essays by children on the reasons why better bred cattle pay will be among the features to reach the children.

Material for the children will come from the U. S. Government, the Association and the Exchange. County Agents already are advancing the club movement, while bankers and business men in the farming districts also are aiding in many instances with prizes.

FORAGE FOR BREEDING EWES

Supply is Necessary to Produce Strong, Vigorous Lambs—Helps to Balance Ration.

Breeding ewes must have some good forage in order to produce strong young, and the growing and developing lambs must have it in order to make good healthy ewes for breeding, and the fattening sheep should have some good forage to help balance their ration. Grain alone fed to sheep that are intended for the block will not produce the best results. They must have a combination of feeds, with some good forage forming the principal proportion of the ration.

STATE'S STANDARDS FOR NORMAL CHILD

Louisville, April 23.—The Bureau of Child Hygiene of the State Board of Health, which is being organized by Dr. Edith B. Lowry of the United States Public Health Service, has fixed for 1921 a definite health standard for the school children of the State. Dr. Lowry said here this week in an address delivered before the public health session of the convention of the Kentucky Educational Association. The session, in the nature of a symposium on the work that is being done in the schools of Kentucky under the new physical training law was participated in by seven public health workers.

Children in the schools of the State to be adjudged normal, Dr. Lowry said, must conform to the following requirements:

1. They must have normal vision or any defects must be corrected by glasses. There may not be any evidence of disease or inflammation.
2. Their hearing must be normal. Here likewise there may not be any evidence of disease or inflammation.
3. Their noses must be clear of adenoids or other obstructions.
4. They must not have diseased nor enlarged tonsils and there may not be any inflammation of the throat.
5. Their gums must be healthy, their teeth must show evidence of daily care, and they may have no unfilled cavities in their teeth.
6. They must have a clean scalp, without vermin, and their skin must be free of any eruption.
7. They must have a chest expansion of at least two inches and there may be no evidence of diseased lungs.
8. They must have a good vaccination scar or a certificate showing recent vaccination.
9. They must be free from hookworm and must be of normal weight or not more than 10 percent overweight.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Colombia Treaty Ratified by the Republican Senators With Reluctance.

MUCH GIVEN, NOTHING ASKED

President Says We Will Fight to Maintain Monroe Doctrine—Japanese Cabinet Refuses to Yield on Yap—Allies Preparing Further Coercion for Germany.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

ratification of the Colombia treaty, by a reluctant senate, did not evoke many loud cheers in the United States. Democrats for years had urged the adoption of the pact as a virtual repudiation of the act of Theodore Roosevelt and John Hay in connection with the separation of Panama from Colombia. The Harding administration urged it, not on that ground, but because it believed this step to Colombia would help to restore amicable feelings toward the United States on the part of the Latin-American peoples, and also because Americans wish to develop oil fields in Colombia. All but four of the Democratic senators voted for the treaty, presumably for their old reasons. Forty Republicans obeyed the behest of the administration, most of them because they hesitated to break with it on an important issue so soon after the beginning of Mr. Harding's regime. Fifteen Republican senators refused to turn so squarely against the policy of their party and voted against ratification after putting up a strong fight. In the course of which they tried to amend the pact by provision that nothing in it should be regarded as a confession of wrongdoing by Roosevelt in the acquisition of the Canal Zone.

Colombia will now greedily seize the gifts made her—$25,000,000 and valuable privileges in the use of the Panama canal—and gives practically nothing in return, not even assurance of fair treatment for her capitalists, who may invest in her oil fields. If most of the money does not stick to the palms of the grafting politicians of Colombia there will be a complete reversal of custom. More important, there is little reason to believe this treaty will lessen the hatred of the United States which is the prevailing sentiment throughout most of Latin America. This sentiment is based on the opinions of men who are thoroughly familiar with the Latin-Americans.

In pursuance of his policy of conciliation President Harding delivered a happy address on Tuesday on the occasion of the unveiling in New York, of a statue of Bolivar the Liberator. The day was the anniversary of both the Battle of Lexington and the opening of the final campaign which resulted in the independence of Venezuela. Naturally the Monroe doctrine was the subject of the main part of the President's speech, and of it he said:

"The doctrine proclaimed under Monroe, which ever since has been jealously guarded as a fundamental of our own republic, maintained that these continents should not again be regarded as fields for the colonial enterprises of old world powers."

"There have been times when the meaning of Monroeism was misunderstood by some, perverted by others, and made the subject of distorting propaganda by those who saw in it an obstacle to their own ambitions."

"The history of the generations since that doctrine was proclaimed has proved we never intended it selfishly; that we had no dream of exploitation."

"On the other side, the history of the last decade certainly must have convinced all the world that we stand willing to fight, if necessary, to protect these continents, these sturdy young democracies, from oppression and tyranny."

The government of the United States has decided that Gen. Alfredo Zayas, candidate of the conservative popular coalition party, was elected President of Cuba last November and that nothing should be done to prevent the island congress from proclaiming him President. Boaz Long, American minister to Cuba, communicated this decision to the Cubans and it was expected they would abide by it.

Our government also took further action in the Panama-Costa Rica dispute, letting both those nations understand that the refusal of Panama to accept the White boundary award, insisted upon by the American government, must not be made the basis for the renewal of hostilities. Both these little republics, it is understood, are mobilizing their forces and breathing fire. Salvador, Honduras and Guatemala, comprising the new Central American union, have assured Costa Rica of their support.

According to the Tokyo newspapers, the Japanese cabinet has decided that there is no reason to change Japan's policy on the Yap mandate because of the recent American note on the subject. Public opinion in Japan is increasingly against any yielding in the controversy, and no one in the United States believes our administration will give an inch. Official information has reached Washington that the conscription and universal military training laws of Japan are being applied more rigidly, and that all Japanese officers stationed in the Pacific Islands south of the equator and in the East Indies have been recalled to Japan, and all Japanese between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-seven without previous service have been ordered to return to Japan for military training. Former Secretary of the Navy Daniels, in an address at Memphis, said: "America cannot surrender the Yap cables even if it should mean war with Japan. . . . No matter what it may cost, and that may be war, I cannot imagine that a peaceful settlement of the Yap situation with Japan will be found."

All of this sounds rather warlike. But the allied powers in Europe seem inclined to side with the United States in the controversy, and reliable observers believe that if they do consent to exclude Yap from the Japanese mandate, Japan will be forced to make to such a decision.

Fighting has broken out between the armies of north and south China, and it is feared in Peking that it is the precursor of renewed civil war. The eight military governors of the Yangtze valley have combined against Gen. Chang Tsingling, war lord of the northern government and alleged ally of Japan and Semenov. Chang is suspected of a scheme to restore the monarchy.

Premier Lloyd George held a conference during the weekend with Premier Briand of France concerning the further coercive measures against the Germans to be adopted in case they do not comply with the reparations demands on May 1—as they almost certainly will not do. What these measures will be is not yet known, but it is reasonably sure that Great Britain will support France in the occupation of the Ruhr district. The reparations commission ordered Germany to transfer the gold holdings of the German Imperial bank to its Coblenz and Cologne branches as security for payment of reparations. This Germany refused to do.

Berlin last week pleaded with President Harding to act as mediator in the reparations dispute, promising to pay what he might determine was just. The president declined to act, but said if Germany would formulate new proposals he would consider bringing the matter to the attention of the allied governments.

Premature, to say the least, was the report of a week ago that the miners' federation of Great Britain had called off the strike. The story was based on a false cablegram. The transport and rail workers, indeed, did change their minds and decided not to quit work in sympathy, but the miners, though so far unconcerned by this split in the triple alliance, are still standing firm at this writing. New proposals were made by the mine-owners, but the federation declared they were too vague to form a basis for negotiations. The miners assert that their own present proposals are entirely clear—a national wage board with a national tonnage levy to enable the poorer pits to pay the rates of wages agreed upon out of funds contributed through the levy by the miners and mine owners.

The government, it is said by well-posted persons, is confident that it will be able to keep the nation's coal needs supplied even if the strike continues. There is enough coal on hand in England to last for three months, and plenty more to be obtained from other countries.

Twenty leaders of the British Protestant church recently sent to the premier a memorial protesting against the disorders in Ireland. In replying to them Lloyd George made an important declaration. First, answering their allegations in order, he denied the existence of irregular forces which had no discipline; that there were unauthorized reprisals, and all other charges against the crown forces. He quoted figures showing that police and soldiers were punished for breaches of discipline and appealed for public support for the "sacred" men who are trying to preserve order in a country given up to anarchy. He then dealt with the Sinn Fein in this manner:

"The Sinn Fein rejected home rule and demanded in its place an Irish republic for the whole of Ireland. The Sinn Fein went further. It deliberately set to work to destroy conciliation and constitutional methods because it recognized that violence was the only method by which it could realize its policy."

"If I thought there was a different policy, which would lead to a solution of our difficulties, I would not hesitate to adopt it, however different it might be to the course the government now is pursuing."

"The government of which I am at the head will never give way on the fundamental question of secession. So long, therefore, as the Sinn Fein demands a republic and refuses to accept, loyally, membership in the British commonwealth, coupled with the fullest home rule compatible to conceding the same rights it claims for itself, the present evils will continue. I do not wish there to be any misunderstanding on that point."

The Greeks and the Turkish nationalists have resumed operations in Asia Minor. The former, having reorganized their army, are carrying on an offensive on the Itrusa front with Eskihehr as their main objective. The Turks are making a show of resistance without really giving battle and meanwhile are using most of their forces in an advance on Smyrna. At last reports they were only 60 miles from that city. The Kemalists, however, are not entirely happy, for they are beginning to realize the perils of their allies, the Russian Bolsheviks. The shamelessly faithless Reds are not giving the aid promised in the treaty, and are demanding from the Turks further concessions with regard to the settlement of Near East questions.

The bootlegging industry of the United States was dealt a severe blow last week when the Canadian province of Ontario, by a majority of more than 150,000, voted for the application of the Dominion law prohibiting the importation of liquor from any province, state or country. There has been a steady stream of liquor smuggled into the United States from Canada, the amount brought in across the Detroit river alone being estimated at 1,000 cases a day. Much of this will now be stopped, and what is brought across will be much more expensive.

New York City is in agony these days because the new state prohibition law is being enforced in the metropolis, which had come to consider itself exempt from such laws that the rest of the country was supposed to observe. The police there are feverishly active and great quantities of liquor have been confiscated.

General College News

"LABOR AND LEARNING"

This legend, upon the seal of one of our great colleges, found a happy illustration on Tuesday afternoon, the 26th, when Dean Waugh, together with the professors and students of the College Department, threw off their coats and vests, and for three hours gave their abounding energies to the pick and shovel in the excavation of the basement of the new Fee Memorial Union Church. What a happy exhibition of the union of faith and works! The Dean of Religion and the Dean of Labor wrought enthusiastically side by side. The boys covered themselves with glory and their hands with honorable blisters. But for the latter they will be comforted by the sympathy of the sisters of the class. If the work left its mark upon the boys, the boys left their abiding mark upon the basement. A new bond of appreciation and gratitude will now bind the officers and members of the church to these helpful students of the College.

BEREA LEGION TEAM WINS FROM UNION COLLEGE

The baseball game between Union College and the American Legion on Saturday afternoon proved to be a thriller. The score at the end of the third inning was 3-3, and the final score 11-3 in Berea's favor. Martin and Hays, batteries for the Soldiers, kept the visitors guessing every minute. Kellar's home run and Moss Hillard's rapid plays were exciting features of the game. Gilligan's ability to slug the horsehide was also demonstrated to advantage. In fact, the American Legion team is an aggregation of players that can play ball with the best of 'em with better than a 50-50 chance of winning the game.

FIRE DRILL

Berea College Fire Department, with Pruitt Smith as Captain, made a record Monday night by putting out an imaginary fire in Putnam Hall in exactly six minutes. The alarm was sounded at 9 o'clock and two minutes later the hose wagon was on the scene, closely followed by the 50-foot ladder, carried by a squad of husky firemen. After the fire was "put out," the hose was turned upon the spectators below and several unfortunates were soaked to the skin.

Y. W. C. A. AT LADIES HALL

The members of the Young Women's Christian Association who met in Ladies Hall last Sunday evening enjoyed a most interesting and helpful program on "Cooperation."

Miss Welsh was the leader and wrought out many points which are essential in the matter of cooperation.

The fact was emphasized that cooperation is as necessary in the little things of life as well as in the larger things.

Miss Mary Lewis, a former Berea student, was present and gave a very interesting talk on cooperation.

The James Hall girls were happy to have representatives from other departments to their division Sunday evening. Miss Bowersox gave some very interesting and worth-while thoughts on the topic "What Girls are Worth." The girls realized more fully than ever their real value and will certainly profit by the discussion.

GIBRALTAR SOCIETY

The Gibraltar Literary Society met last Saturday evening for the second time this term. An especially good historical program was rendered. Several events of historical note were told by different members of the society, as if the great men of the past were talking to us. In our imagination we were carried back to Columbus' time. We heard him tell how he had reached India by sailing westward around the world. We were suddenly transported to a different era when Captain Kidd told us some of his adventures. Time made another leap when Roosevelt related the incidents of one of his hunting trips. We were then transferred to politics. A debate between Hayne and Calhoun, on the affirmative, and Webster and Clay, on the negative, was given. Then, as a grand climax, Mark Twain gave a good criticism of the whole production.

After hearing the program one man acted wisely by giving his name for consideration as a member.

LATIN TOURNAMENTS

At the second annual meeting of the Classical Association of Kentucky plans were made for a Bi-State Latin Tournament which was held at Louisville, April 16. Students from the high schools from Kentucky and Indiana competed for a gold medal. The winners of this have not yet been announced.

The second Annual State tournament is to be held at Lexington, Saturday, May 14, 1921. Gold medals are offered by the State University of Kentucky to the best student in Vergil, by Transylvania College to the best in Cicero, by Georgetown College to the best in Caesar, and by the University of Louisville to the best in elementary Latin. The questions for this contest are to be prepared by the teachers of Latin in the high schools of Atlanta, Georgia. Berea College expects to be represented in the State Tournament this year by representatives from each of the Latin classes of the Academy. Berea has invited the Latin Tournament to meet here next year.

THE VALUE OF THE STUDY OF LATIN

At a recent educational meeting in Kentucky there were two striking testimonies to the value of the study of Latin. The first was by President R. H. Crossfield, of Transylvania, who spoke of the conversation he had had with Lloyd George of England and attributed a great deal of the success of Lloyd George to his training in Latin. As a poor boy in Wales Lloyd George had an ambition to be admitted to the bar as a lawyer. He found that it was necessary for him to study Latin and French in order to be admitted to the bar. Very much disappointed, he told this to his old uncle, who was sixty years of age. The uncle began with his nephew the study of Latin in their spare moments, and they both became masters of it. President Crossfield said that Lloyd George's knowledge of Latin was one of his biggest assets in his career. He quoted other famous men such as Sir Francis Geddes, Dr. Jowett, and the late Champ Clark as testifying to the value of classical training. He stressed the necessity for leadership and the value of Latin and Greek in the preparation of our leaders. He objected strenuously to the elimination of Latin from the high school course.

Hon. George Colvin, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, took the strong stand that Latin should be compulsory and not elective for all students in the high school course. He said it would soon be apparent what students were capable of continuing, but that all students should have an opportunity to know whether or not they were capable of studying this important subject. He said that he wished to identify himself with the movement to make Latin compulsory in all the high schools of Kentucky. Democracy to be of value must have leadership, and we cannot have leadership without the most thorough training and preparation. He said that he gave no choice to his daughter, but compelled her to take Latin in her high school course and that she is now continuing it in college of her own free will. It is because of the attempt to make things easy in the high school course that we have eliminated Latin as a required subject. No man can talk for more than five minutes without betraying that he has studied Latin. He testified that of all the subjects he had studied he had realized the most satisfaction out of Latin, with the exception of English. As principal of the high school of Lebanon before becoming State Superintendent, he required Latin of the students, and as a result almost all of the graduates of that school went to college, passed in their work, and have become leaders in the community. We must give every boy and girl the opportunity to get the preparation for leadership if democracy is to endure.

VAST POWER SCHEME

American engineers have prepared plans for a scheme to develop several million horse-power at Niagara. The plans, if carried out, would involve almost total destruction of Niagara as a scenic wonder.

Today the river is generating a total of 650,000 horsepower, of which Canada's share by authorization of the International Commission which regulates the use of power, is some 425,000 horsepower. At present water can only be taken from above the Falls, the commission permitting the diversion of 56,000 cubic feet per second, of which the American share is 20,000 and Canada's 36,000. Ontario, however, supplies the American side with a certain amount of current. The new Chippawa Canal will increase Canada's power under international arrangement by some 210,000 horsepower, which it is hoped to eventually increase to 472,000.

Meantime the Americans propose that the 56,000 cubic feet diversion be increased to 80,000 and instead of getting the smaller portion as today, that both Canada and the U. S. go fifty-fifty, taking 40,000 each. But that is not all the Americans propose. They hope eventually to get 1,500,000 horsepower from above the Falls. And this they would manufacture by tunnelling Goat Island. By extending Goat Island out into the rapids they could cut rock tunnels which, from the upper end of their base at the foot of the Falls would give a drop of 200 feet on to the turbine wheels. Of course this and an equal diversion on our Ontario side would greatly reduce the size of the Falls.

But this is only part of the scheme. The sequel means good-bye to the Whirlpool and the magnificent rapids in the gorge below the Falls. The American engineers actually propose to dam the Niagara River at Foster's Flats below the Whirlpool and about five miles below the Falls. To any one who has seen the mighty river sweeping down towards Lake Ontario, the very idea of controlling it seems preposterous. The Niagara has a minimum flow of 220,000 cubic feet per second. From the Falls to Foster's Flats the river descends 102 feet, and for the first four and one-half miles the current is terrific, and the shores sheer cliffs, hundreds of feet high. But Foster's Flats give the necessary shore base on which to start the dam which, 650 feet wide would be 140 high from its base to the crest of the spillway on top. The daring engineers propose to build one-half the dam from Foster's Flats, to pierce it with temporary sluiceways and then to divert the whole Niagara River and send it thru these sluices, while they construct the balance of the dam in the dry bed of the diverted Niagara. Once the dam was built the river would obviously back up and rise in its confines until about 80 feet of the present bank at the Whirlpool was submerged, and the now madly rushing stretch of waters became nothing but one of the

Perfect System of Bookkeeping

All accounts are posted daily on our Elliott-Fisher Bank Bookkeeping machine which means absolute accuracy.

Three copies are made, one for our ledger, one for the customer, and one for proof of the work. The customer's statement shows every deposit and every check, the payee of the check being printed on the statement.

These statements are ready for you at any time or will be mailed monthly or quarterly to you if you want them, with your cancelled checks.

Call in and see the machine work. It adds and subtracts, and carries forward the balance by the simple operation of keys similar to a typewriter.

biggest mill ponds in the world.

The scheme would of course ruin Niagara scenically, and if it could be accomplished at all would cost an estimated $100,000,000 and take three years. But the dam alone would supply two million horsepower, of which Canada would get one-half. A steam-generated power even around Buffalo, where coal is cheaper than in Toronto, costs an average of $80 per horsepower per annum, the two million horsepower generated at the dam alone would mean an annual economy of at least $160,000,000 in coal—160 percent of the dam's cost—that is, of course, if the power could all be used.

President Harding's declaration that the United States would fight for the Monroe Doctrine has not aroused any enthusiasm in the countries of South America. On account of their rapid growth, they feel sensitive over the imputation that they need a protector. Nineteen hundred and twenty-three will be the one hundredth anniversary of the declaration by President Monroe in his message to Congress at a time when a European alliance was planning to restore the South American countries to Spain. The new doctrine of Pan-Americanism, which is based on the cooperation of all American states on a basis of equality, is much more acceptable to the South American republics.
